ABOUT THE EVENT

Where | Maryland's premier clay shooting destination since 1956, the venue is located in a beautiful wooded setting within the Loch Raven Reservoir Park in Baltimore County.

Who | Anyone can participate, prior experience is not required. LRSTC was created for recreational, educational, charitable and non-profit purposes. The center will closed to the public for this event, and will provide several volunteers to guide us. Practice in a controlled, safe, and welcoming environment.

Safety | All visitors are required to complete the center's shooter registration prior to arrival. This consists of a review of safety rules, three short safety videos, and a quiz available here:
